Summer Internships!!!

January 5, 2009

Dear Student Advisor,

The Reading Hospital and Medical Center is offering six paid six-week summer internships for students who have a high aptitude and a strong interest in pursuing a career as a physician. This six week program will involve an observership in various clinical forums, didactics relevant to a student anticipating a career in medicine and participation in a clinical research project. We hope to build on the curriculum provided by your institution and offer support for higher level training in physiology, as well as evidence based medicine and biostatistics.

I have attached a flyer that describes the application process and this should answer any questions the students might have about the internship. I would like to emphasize that this program is only available to students in their first year of medical school.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Robert Sweeny
