

Attention International Science Scholars at Penn!

Free English classes for high intermediate learners of English.

University Laboratory Animal Resources and the Graduate School of Education (along with support from the Biomedical Postdoctoral Program) are pleased to offer the following ESL courses AT NO CHARGE to Penn faculty, staff, visiting scholars, post-docs and students.

One class will be offered for students continuing on from the fall semester English class, and one class will be offered for new students.

The focus of these classes is speaking and listening for social and professional purposes, with topics such as preparing conference presentations, participating in workplace meetings, presenting your research to colleagues in informal settings, leisure activities in Philadelphia, and socializing at work. Interactive and innovative classes offer many opportunities to practice and to improve your speaking and listening abilities. You will also have the opportunity to meet many international scholars working at Penn in an informal and collegial environment.

Start Date: Tuesday, January 19, 2010

End Date: Tuesday, April 27, 2010

Time: 7:00 PM- 9:00 PM (Tuesdays)

Location: Graduate School of Education (GSE), 37th and Walnut Streets

Because a certificate of completion will be given at the end of the course, regular attendance is required.

If you are interested, please contact Dr. Cheri Micheau (cheri@gse.upenn.edu) by January 14, 2010.
