

Key Concepts:

- ADEs occur frequently and many are preventable.
- Regulations require review of medications to prevent actual and potential ADEs.
- Best prescribing practices in terms of selection of drugs, appropriate doses, optimal frequency and avoidance of drug-drug/disease/food/herbal interaction should be adopted.
- Team work among everyone taking care of the older adult is important to preventing ADEs.

