

GIVING BACK

to Penn Medicine's Abramson Cancer Center

There are many ways to give back to Penn Medicine's Abramson Cancer Center. We are grateful to our community of advocates for their support and passion in helping us spread awareness and raise funds for research and patient care. So, how can you help?

Make a Gift:

By making a donation, you can have a direct impact on cancer research. With the decline in government funding, philanthropy is more important than ever before. Consider making a gift today!

To make a gift online visit: PennMedicine.org/Abramson/Donate

To mail a gift, please send checks to:

Penn Medicine Development
C/O Karleigh Rose Pettit
3535 Market Street
Suite 750
Philadelphia, PA 19104

*Please note, checks must be made payable to the Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania

To learn more about making a major gift, contact: Karleigh Rose Pettit at karleigh@upenn.edu or 215.898.9931

Create a GivingPage:

Penn GivingPages are the perfect way for you, your family, and your friends to raise awareness and monetary support for medical research, education, and patient care. These community fundraising pages allow you to personalize a web platform and raise support within your community.

Create a GivingPage today! Visit: giving pages.upenn.edu.

Stay Connected and Advocate:

Join our monthly e-newsletter and social media channels to stay informed about the latest research, programs and stories, and share with your network of friends and family. It takes a collective community to fight cancer!

Sign up for the ACC Newsletter email, contact: abramson-gifts@upenn.edu.

 @PennCancer  @PennMedicine

GIVING BACK

to Penn Medicine's Abramson Cancer Center

Organize a community event:

Rallying your community is a powerful way to give back. Whether through a run/walk, sporting event, or gala, community events help raise support and awareness for cancer research, while bringing the community together.

To tell us about your event, contact: Liz Watkins at ewatki@upenn.edu or 215.573.9629.

Share your story:

We often feature patient stories in our print and electronic newsletters, and would love to hear yours! Sharing your story with others can have a tremendous impact and bring hope to patients and their families.

To share your story, contact: abramson-gifts@upenn.edu or 215.573.9629.

Volunteer at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania:

Volunteering at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania is a meaningful way to give back for those who have experience working in a medical environment.

For more information, visit: PennMedicine.org/HUPvolunteers.

“Every day I am inspired and invigorated by the united force of the Abramson Cancer Center - and humbled by the dedication of our community. Together, we are declaring hope in our mission to eradicate cancer.”

– Robert H. Vonderheide, MD, DPhil

*John H. Glick, MD, Abramson Cancer Center Director's Professor
Director, Abramson Cancer Center*