The PSOM Office of Organization Effectiveness is offering two opportunities for individuals or teams to participate in Crucial Conversations Training.

What is Crucial Conversations Training?
Crucial Conversations is a full-day course that teaches skills for creating alignment and agreement by fostering open dialogue around high-stakes, emotional or risky topics—at all levels.

Who Is Eligible To Attend?
Registration is open to individuals and teams meeting the criteria below. All participants must have an active faculty or staff affiliation with the Perelman School of Medicine and commit to attendance at both scheduled days of the course.

Those applying as teams must meet the following criteria:
- An ongoing working relationship, or a project-related working relationship lasting for at least the next 6 months
- Team members share a common goal, and are required to work interdependently to achieve that goal
- Nature of the work requires at least occasional high stakes/high emotion decision making

Those applying as individuals must meet the following criteria:
- Currently supervises at least one direct report or is in a full-time project management role leading a project team
- Nature of the work requires at least occasional high stakes/high emotion decision making
