

The Business of Science- How To Land Your first Job

Our “Business of Science- How To Land Your First Job” is offered as a series of two 2 hour live webinars that cover: finding jobs, analyzing job ads to determine your skill match and qualifications, developing experience statements and accomplishments that demonstrate those qualifications, generating a draft formatted targeted resume, leveraging your network to get your resume to the hiring manager, and preparing you for the interview process.

Behavioral Objectives

- Find a Job in Your Preferred Career Path
- Analyze Job Ads to Identify Critical Skills
- Identify Your Core Technical, Business and Social Skills
- Develop a Targeted Resume for Specific Jobs
- Build and Leverage Your Network to Get An interview
- Be Prepared for the Interview Process
- Maximize Your Competitive Advantage
- Deploy Flamingo as your Career Coach

The Business of Science Webinar Series – includes the following modules:

The Business of Science Fundamentals

23 Core Job Competences
Building Your Technical, Business and Social Identities
Finding a Job That Excites You
Developing a Targeted Resume

Networking for Success

Developing Your LinkedIn Profile
Building Your Network Identity
Networking in Person
Networking Online
Leveraging Your Network to Get a Job

Flamingo Training

Find Job Ads
Job Ad Analytics
Build Experience Statements
Author Targeted Resumes
Interview Preparation