[2021-12-02 12:04:54] [Mary Kinney] So sad to miss bookclub - but my book never arrived. :(
[2021-12-02 12:05:21] [Lynn M] you are so funny!
[2021-12-02 12:05:37] [Lynn M] Slide Envy
[2021-12-02 12:05:49] [Gretchen Kolb] @Mary, sorry to hear that, but Dr. Roberts did a great job summarizing, so feel free to watch
[2021-12-02 12:05:50] [Felicia Morrison] The Book Club last night was enriching!
[2021-12-02 12:06:16] [Carolina Cerino] The Book Club was eye-opening.
[2021-12-02 12:07:28] [Gretchen Kolb] Did you attend book club? What did you think?
[2021-12-02 12:07:43] [Gretchen Kolb] Using your cell phone, text “pennmedicine918" to “22333" If you are on your computer, you can also click on the link on chat PollEv.com/pennmedicine918
[2021-12-02 12:08:56] [Amanda Williams] Book club discussion was great last night!
[2021-12-02 12:09:46] [John Salmon] I didn't know about the Book Club. Is there a way to sign up & get notified about future events?
[2021-12-02 12:10:36] [Tammy Turner] How do I join the book club?
[2021-12-02 12:11:03] [Felicia Morrison] Love- Chad- practice made it perfect!

One slide: one point

Big difference

More visual and fewer words
[2021-12-02 12:28:53] [Gretchen Kolb] https://www.med.upenn.edu/uphscovid19education/lead-strong.html
[2021-12-02 12:29:01] [Gretchen Kolb] "Behind the shield"
[2021-12-02 12:29:34] [Jon Foley Sherman (he/him)] Don't make people read your slides. And think about how to stage information - when do people need to see what and how.
[2021-12-02 12:29:40] [Mike Posencheg] Let the data tell the story - annotate data to allow "the project to be on the page"
[2021-12-02 12:29:45] [Samantha DiPompeo] Presentation notes are a life saver, sometimes I put other data that I don't necessarily want on the slide there in case someone asks for it
[2021-12-02 12:29:54] [Brad Okonak] If possible, take the pulse of the people who requested the data to see if I'm on the right track
[2021-12-02 12:30:07] [Betsy] Agree about why are we doing this. Important questions: what is the so what? what do you want people to take away? Is the message clear?
[2021-12-02 12:30:24] [Carolyn Hewson] Your slide should make people feel something. Help them connect to your message--the simpler the better.
[2021-12-02 12:30:54] [Lori Gustave] what tools are you using to convert data to something more visually appealing. Im pretty old school and looking for new tools!
[2021-12-02 12:31:02] [Joseph del Castillo] Agree Don't retell, relive it with the audience.
[2021-12-02 12:31:12] [Nina Miller] Lori, try Canva
[2021-12-02 12:32:55] [Betsy] Microsoft PPT has icons, which can be helpful with data visualization
[2021-12-02 12:33:21] [Hunter Jones] be brief and be gone!!
[2021-12-02 12:33:47] [Sarita] Do you recommend a max number of slides per time frame?
[2021-12-02 12:34:47] [mary coniglio] Include the finding in the heading of the graph. If someone isn't at the presentation and reads the ppt, you want the point to be clear
[2021-12-02 12:35:22] [Hunter Jones] know your audience!
[2021-12-02 12:36:27] [Gretchen Kolb] For basic course around using PPT, Canva, etc check out LinkedIn Learning courses, >10,000 available via Knowledge Link
[2021-12-02 12:36:33] [Barbara] I attended a great key note one time that had slides with zero words. Very engaging!
[2021-12-02 12:37:11] [Otis Simmons] What are some key telling signs that your audience is interested and following your presentation?
[2021-12-02 12:37:50] [Carolina Cerino] It's a form of negotiation. You are selling your idea. So it would be best if you did the job from that point of view: who is your audience, what do they think, how do they work, how do they communicate, what matters to them. Then you can plan how to approach them.
[2021-12-02 12:38:38] [Lynn Cardona] One of the challenges I have had, is not knowing what my audience knows about the presenting topic. This makes it difficult to edit.. Any recommendation on learning what your audience knows about the topic your presenting.
[2021-12-02 12:39:12] [Otis Simmons] I like that Chad.
[2021-12-02 12:39:13] [Lynn M] Say it again Chad!
[2021-12-02 12:39:24] [Lynn Cardona] Great recommendation Chad!!!!!
[2021-12-02 12:39:38] [Felicia Morrison] Like that algorithm. #SilverBullet
[2021-12-02 12:39:44] [Dawana Holmes] Great recommendation! Thank you Chad!
[2021-12-02 12:39:44] [Kerri Celaya] Great rule of thumb!
[2021-12-02 12:39:53] [Mary Ann Fisher] I was coached if you have too many slides you do not know the material
[2021-12-02 12:39:53] [Lynn M] Lynn, my mentor recently suggested I have a colleague from another department review my presentation
[2021-12-02 12:40:46] [Carla DeWald] That's great. Always great to learn and borrow from others!
[2021-12-02 12:40:48] [Amy] Toni is the greatest deck sharer!!!
[2021-12-02 12:40:55] [Jon Foley Sherman (he/him)] Might it be less # of slldies than # of points to make? I've presented decks with loads of slides and no one knew because I worked the transitoin the way Toni recommended. 10 clean slides are better than 3 busy ones.
[2021-12-02 12:41:10] [Barbara] Our team keeps a presentation library accessible to everyone.
Great question because one of my pet peeves are crammed information in one slide, barely readable.

Avoid "chartoons".

NEVER apologize for a slide being "busy". If you think it's too busy, make it less busy, or don't use it.
